THE PREMIER CARDIAC BIOMARKER FORUM
1st Asia-Pacific Symposium

#proCardioForum

July 5, 2019

Dear Dr./Prof.

It is our great pleasure to invite you to attend the 1st APAC proCardio Forum on September 27, 2019 at Bangkok, Thailand.

proCardio originated from the global cardiac biomarker forum organized by Roche Diagnostics over a decade ago. From the past 11 global events, proCardio has been well received as a highly engaging scientific event featuring the world-class international cardiac leaders to share the latest science and clinical practice on cardiac markers. This year we have the opportunity to extend the global proCardio to the Asia Pacific region.

Carrying forward the heritage of the global event, the APAC proCardio Forum creates a scientific and educational platform in the region for the medical and scientific experts in the field of cardiac biomarkers to exchange ideas, review the latest clinical evidence, and develop next steps for the future.

As a guest of this fabulous event, you would have an exclusive opportunity to learn the latest development of cardiac markers and interact and network with the global and regional experts in the field.

Enclosed please find the agenda of the APAC proCardio Forum.

We cordially invite you to join this event and look forward to welcoming you at the event!
